

For once Salt Lake changed its plans and the first-night audience went the second night, paradoxical as it may seem. And it was a house to be admired, too, from the pit back, and even in the "upper circles." There was one beauty in the forefront of one of the stalls, who kept the eye of the audience during the one brief interval in the music. She had a face like a rose, with all the sweet beauty of a girl and just a touch of grown-upness in it. A small round hat of deep purple velvet surrounded her brown locks and a chic little bow of velvet of the same color fell over one ear.

Bridge bids fair to be relegated soon to the background, if all that has been claimed for the new fad holds good. The latest is an entirely different game, called by the beguiling name of "diction," and taking unto itself graces entirely new to it under its old cognomen. The fad has taken a strong hold through the cities of the east, and some of the well advanced folk nearby have put the stamp of their approval on it. One of the significant things about the game is that it makes the study of Elwell less complicated than it has been.

It would seem, judging by the reports one hears from Gotham, that there is a complete system of espionage among the Utah contingent in that place. Nevertheless a local man return from that place but his every act in so far as his home friends (?) have been able to witness, is reported here and guesses are made as to the possible outcome. One may expect soon to learn of some clever disguise adopted by well known men when they want to take an acquaintance to the play or to dinner in New York.

The man who spent a lonely and disgruntled summer in his handsome big auto car, is still touring alone. He walked into the Salt Lake theatre a few evenings ago to witness "Madame Butterfly," and sat through the performance with a pair of lovers on either side of him, and a look of unutterable ennui on his face. After all, half a loaf may be better than a whole one—with no butter or jam.

Some one has suggested that only the men have been keeping Lent this year. Of course the women have been so busy playing bridge that there has been little time left for entertaining; and then, too, some of the fair sex claim that playing bridge with some folks they know is like doing penance anyway.

CURRENT EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

Mrs. Moylean C. Fox, formerly of this city but now of Oakland, entertained at a luncheon yesterday to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Jessie Fox, to Edson Adams of San Francisco. The date of the wedding has not yet been set, but Salt Lake friends are sending messages of greeting to the bride-to-be, who is well known locally.

for Redbank, N. J., where he will be married March 29 to Miss Edith Fayre. They will sail the last of the month for a tour of Europe, and later they will make their home in Salt Lake. Miss Fayre was a visitor here some few years ago, having been a guest of Mrs. Fred Sinclair, when she made a great many friends.

Mrs. C. W. Boyd was the hostess yesterday at a luncheon, followed by cards, for about two dozen of her friends, the affair being in honor of Mrs. C. S. Williamson of Denver. The luncheon was served at six small tables, and later the game of 500 was played. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Harry S. Knight and Mrs. Clarence Warnock.

Miss Stella Clark will leave this week with Mrs. Wallace T. Perham for a visit in Butte. Later Miss Clark will go to Velva, N. D., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bowles.

The marriage of Miss Eli A. Manior and Robert Williams Gordon will take place in Long Beach, Cal., on Tuesday next.

Mrs. E. Bonnemort will entertain at a theatre party tomorrow evening to see "The Bonnie Brier Bush," followed by a supper at her home. The affair is in honor of Mrs. Fred Halvorsen.

Mrs. James L. Franken, Miss Margaret Park and Miss Minnie Kiesel of Ogden left yesterday for San Francisco, whence they sail shortly for the Orient.

Miss Ellen Hayes of Ely, Nev., spent Friday in the city visiting friends.

Mrs. D. H. Christensen and her children are back from Long Beach, Cal., where they have spent the winter.

Miss Mabel Druehl of Park Ridge, Ill., is visiting her brother, William Druehl.

Mrs. John Reinsmar will be the hostess Wednesday at a card party for Mrs. Williamson.

Mrs. Clarence Warnock entertains Friday afternoon next in compliment to Mrs. Williamson.

Judge and Mrs. James A. Miner are expected home from the coast today, having been delayed by the storms.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald has gone to Boise on a short business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blyth, Jr., of Evanston are visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Keith.

Mrs. J. C. Landenberger is home from San Diego, where she has spent a part of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Breeden will go to Ogden for a week end visit the last of the week.

Mrs. W. C. Hall is back from a stay of several weeks on the coast.

Mrs. Thompson, Miss Thompson, Miss Claire Thompson and Mrs. Fay Catlin are all at home now at the Keith apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashby D. Cleveland have returned from a month's trip to Chicago and south to New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kenworthy and their family left yesterday to make their home in Pueblo.

Miss Mabel Barnes returned home Sunday after a pleasant three months' visit with relatives and friends in Park City.

Mrs. John C. Cutler will receive her friends tomorrow afternoon, instead of Wednesday, as is her custom.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Cox went to Logan yesterday to spend the day.

Mrs. Sarah McWhorter will be back from Denver early in the week, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Parsons, whom she has been visiting.

Mrs. L. P. Larson and Mrs. E. T. Huber are down from Park City visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes.

Mrs. Louis Cecil Robinson entertained yesterday afternoon at an informal bridge tea.

Miss Lela Stingley entertains at an informal tea on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Leslie L. Savage.

Mrs. W. J. Lynch entertains at cards Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. C. S. Williamson of Denver.

P. L. Williams, Jr., is home from Chicago, where he has spent the past six months or so.

Miss Eva H. Jensen entertained the members of her class and her teachers at High school Friday evening at an informal affair at the Jensen home on Second West street.

The ladies of the 11th Methodist church will give an Easter dinner on Thursday evening at their church.

Miss Alice Williams gave a piano recital for her pupils last Monday evening at her studio, which was enjoyed by a large number of friends.

The J. W. F. Sewing club met last Monday evening with Miss Inez Britt.

The Jolly Clique Dancing club, composed of the girls of the University of Utah, gave a dance Friday evening. The large dance hall was decorated in pink and white roses. In the center of the hall was a large T. J. C. composed of roses suspended from the ceiling, which represented the club emblem.

The Jolly Clique. One of the features of the evening was the punk dance. Each girl wore a piece of punk in her hair. When all the lights were turned off the burning punk and light of the moon made the punk dance the feature of the evening.

The ladies of the George R. Maxwell

W. R. C. and posts, and all W. R. C. and Circle ladies and friends, will be entertained at a card social on next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by Mrs. Ashbridge, at her home, 224 West Third North street.

A surprise party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shimmis last Monday evening. Music, games, etc., were enjoyed. Light refreshments were served.

Miss Edith Maguire is now at home at 1006 Third avenue, the residence of Mrs. W. H. Tibbals.

Miss Flora Wise celebrated her sixth birthday at her parents' home, 1167 West Second South street, last Tuesday, and entertained a number of her little friends.

Mrs. J. M. Anderson entertained at a luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Wilcox, who leaves soon for Seattle. Covers were laid for twelve. The artistic luncheon decorations were in yellow and white. The afternoon was spent in a unique album contest, prizes being awarded to Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Smith.

The history section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet at the club house Thursday morning, March 28. Mrs. McMahon will give the topic, "The Early Lyric Poets of Greece."

Lillias Foulger entertained the Doris club yesterday afternoon at her home, 229 Graeber avenue. Pearl Pickett will entertain the club at her home, 302 Grand avenue, April 6.

Women's Clubs.

The Ladies' Literary club house was filled on Friday afternoon with the members and their friends, who had come to hear the two important topics presented that afternoon. The Rev. Father Walsh took the place of Rev. Father Guinan of All Hallows college, and gave a brief and interesting talk on the various religious orders for men. He reviewed the origin and growth of the Jesuits, the Marists, the Franciscan monks, the Benedictine monks, the Dominican friars and other lesser organizations.

Mrs. C. H. Blanchard read a scholarly paper on "Roma Eterna." Mrs. Blanchard, who had spent some time in Rome, spoke of it as one sees the city today. She told of the various impressions one gets in a visit to the city, and showed the wonderful blending of the modern and the ancient in the city as it stands today, and as it will stand in the future.

The music of the afternoon was furnished by two musicians, new to Salt Lake, Mrs. John Morton Davis and Thomas E. Rowan. Mrs. Davis played with a great degree of expression Chopin's Ballade in F, and as an encore Hensel's exquisitely beautiful "Bird Song." Mr. Rowan's first selection was Francis Alltison's "A Song of Thanksgiving," and later he sang a beautiful little ballad, "An Awakening," composed by Mrs. Cassie Byrnes especially for him. The audience was so pleased that he was obliged to respond to an encore, and repeated the beautiful little ballad.

The only business of the afternoon was the appropriation, on motion of Mrs. A. J. Gorham, of $50 toward the building of the manual training department of Canyon Crest. The vote was unanimous on the subject, details of which were published in The Herald yesterday.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Atheneum of Park City was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. LeCompte, and the following was the program:

Paper, "Austrian Musicians," Mrs. A. R. Weeter; lesson, "Austro-Hungarian Life in Town and Country."

After the regular work had been done away with, musical selections were rendered by the Misses Virginia Smith, Ethel Simons and Mrs. Emma Keiso. Mrs. Frankel will have the ladies at her home Monday, when Mrs. Dr. Wight will give a book review.

The music section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet at the club house at 10:15 Wednesday morning. Jessie Gaynor is the American composer to be studied, and Mrs. William A. Wozell will read a paper on her work, which will be followed by a number of her songs. Mrs. Owen MacAleer will read a paper on sacred music, and this subject will be illustrated with songs by Mrs. Stanley Price, Mrs. Kate Bridwell-Anderson, Mrs. Yearsley and Miss Ferguson. The chairman of the section has asked for a full attendance, as the work for next year is to be taken up for consideration.

The Utah Sorosis of Provo met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. L. Walliek. Miss Arvilla Clark gave a very interesting address on "The Rhine and Its Castles," which was followed by a paper on "Legends of the Rhine," by Mrs. George S. Taylor.

The Nineteenth Century club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. V. Aird. An interesting paper on "Florence Nightingale" was given by Miss M. Alice Isley, followed by one equally interesting on "Clara Barton," by Mrs. John Marwick.

Mrs. William Oliver and Mrs. Irwin Troxell entertained the Wasatch Literary club on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of members and guests were in attendance. The charming little story, "A Christmas Tea," written by Mrs. Ritchie, was read by Mrs. James Dart. An interesting letter from Honolulu was read by Mrs. Carter.

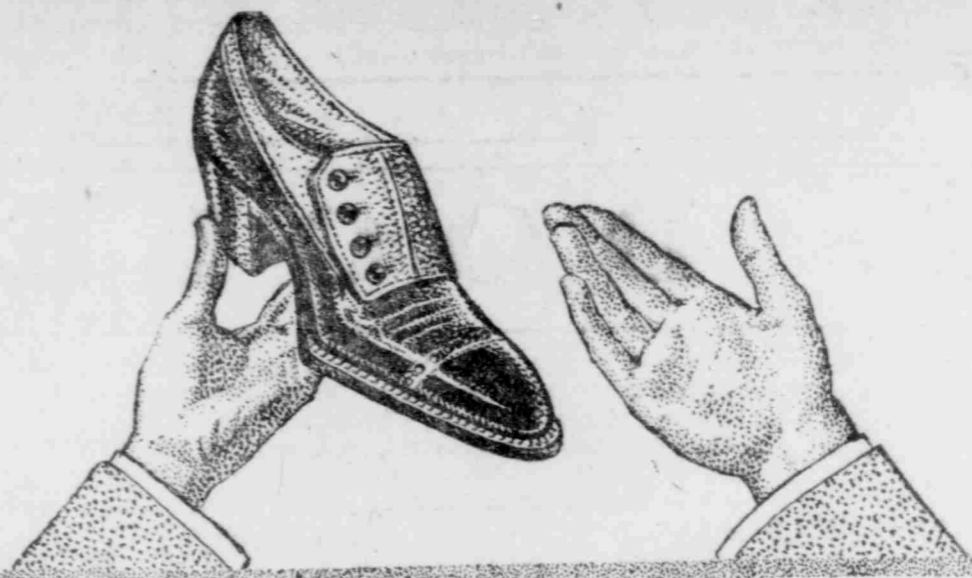

The current events and current literature section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet next Friday afternoon at the club house. Mrs. Starkweather will speak on "An Artist and an Illustration—F. E. Shuman and Peter Newell." Mrs. A. T. Vollmer will give some readings from the Rebecca stories by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

The new rule of locking the door at the beginning of the program at the Ladies' Literary club was enforced for the first time on Friday last, and as a consequence about one-fourth of the club members held an overflow meeting on the outside during the time the first topic was being presented.

The committee having in charge the program of the Ladies' Literary club for the next year consists of Mrs. Seth W. Morrison, as chairman, with Mrs. Allen T. Sanford, Mrs. C. H. Blanchard, Mrs. W. F. James, Mrs. E. O. Lee, Mrs. J. T. Treasure and Mrs. W. H. Child.

The Woman's club meets Tuesday at the home of Mrs. P. N. Cook, 874 East Second South street. Mrs. J. H. Powers will present the topic, "Pure Food and the Hepburn Bill."

The Bay View Reading club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. A. A. Dix at 1111 Second street.

AN ACCOMPLISHED PIANIST

MRS. JOHN MORTON DAVIS,

Pianist whose playing at the Ladies' Literary club made a most favorable impression on Friday last. Mrs. Davis comes from Chicago where she has been prominent in musical circles for some time. She is a sister of Mrs. Fred Hornung whose musical ability is well known here.
